Nearly all parts of the county got some of the local showers Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Smith family has scored again. The New York Democrats have nominated Alfred Smith for Governor.

D. M. Hutton, of Harrodsburg, was elected president, and R. F. Forester, of Ashland, vice-president of the Kentucky Press Association.

Director General McAdoo has announced an increase in wages of railroad shopmen to 68 cents an hour. The advance apply to about 500,000 men, and apply flatly to all sections of the country, the addition to the aggregate annual payroll being estimated at nearly $100,000,000.

How the German Kaiser visited Chateau Thierry on June 3 and 4 to watch his troops while they marched down the Paris-Metz road toward the French capital, only to be met and hurled back by the American artillery and French guns, was recounted by the French people who stayed in Chateau Thierry during the German occupation.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG

David Thomas Stewart has arrived safely overseas, according to a card received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stewart.

UNOCCUPIED BELGIUM.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 24.—Less than 2 1/2 per cent of Belgian territory is still free from the invader. All the unoccupied communities are within range of the German heavy artillery which fired upon Dunkirk, but all are unharmed.

On the other hand, Belgian troops occupied seven times as much territory in German East as the total area of Belgium.

JOY RIDE WAS EXPENSIVE

E. S. Overall, the driver of the Tennessee automobile who ran into Mark Harrison's wagon on the Russellville pike Wednesday evening adjusted the damage done to the wagon and mules yesterday by paying Harrison $200 and settling all costs caused by his arrest. He shelled the bills off a big roll of money and settled on the spot.

YOUNG WOMEN GIVEN
MILITARY EXERCISES.

In order to relieve the monotony of long periods over the drawing board, young women taking drafting work are given calisthenics the same as is given to soldiers, for twenty minutes at ten o'clock in the morning and at three o'clock in the afternoon. This work is given under the direction of Lieutenant L. C. Braund, member of the military contingent instructing soldiers at the University of Kentucky.

N. O. GRAY SUPERINTENDENT.

Frankfort, Ky., July 24.—N. O. Gray, of Kuttawa, chairman of the State Insurance Rating Board until it was abolished by the last General Assembly, will be superintendent of rating. State Auditor R. L. Greene stated tonight that the appointment will be made to-morrow. The superintendent assumes all the duties relative to fire insurance that the board performed. No other change in the office is contemplated Auditor Greene said.

SCHWAB CALLS
CONFERENCE
ON STEEL

(By Associated Press.)

Philadelphia, July 25.—Charles M. Schwab, Director General of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, today called a conference to meet in New York Monday of representatives of all big steel plants to devise means of keeping the government supplied with steel so the war program will not be interrupted. He says the ship-building program now calls for a total of four million tons of steel a year.

MOVES INTO
NEW QUARTERS

The Postal Telegraph Company's office has been moved from the small narrow office in the Phoenix Building on Ninth Street to the large room in Hotel Latham on Virginia Street, which room was for several years used for a tailor shop. The wires were cut into the new office and instruments installed and messages were sent without interruption. Manager Grubbs is expecting the arrival of new furniture and equipment most any day to fit up the new office and make it modern in every respect. The large and steadily increasing business of the Postal compelled the company to seek new and larger quarters.

GERMAN SUGAR CARGO
MADE INTO CANDY.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 24.—A thousand tons of sugar said to have been destined for Germany is now being turned into candy for American soldiers in France. Swiss agents had purchased the sugar in the United States. When the shipment arrived at a French port the government learned that it would remain in Switzerland just long enough for reshipping into Germany. The sugar was stored in a French warehouse where it remained for three years and recently it was sold at auction.

The Young Men's Christian Association purchased the sugar and now the association factories in France are busy manufacturing dainties for the soldiers.

The system of the "sugar card" in France entitles one to one pound of sugar per month, five hundred grammes. About the 25th of the month there are many who have their coffee "without."

CANTALOUPE SEASON.

Las Cruces, N. M., July 25.—In the cantaloupe kingdom beauty is only skin deep. It is by netting that the cantaloupe experts can judge the quality of the melons they buy for the eastern and northern markets. Shippers are preparing here for the annual melon harvest. Each of the crates is inspected by experts. The netting or crossing-veining which appears on the outside of the melon is examined closely. If it is well developed, stands well away from the skin the cantaloupe is of good quality. If the netting is thin and indistinct, the entire crate and often the whole load, is rejected. Cantaloupes are sorted into three grades: ponies, mediums and jumbos.

NARROWING MOVEMENT HAS SWEEPED HALF THE SALIENT FREE
OF HUNS, EXCEPT DEAD ONES

(By Associated Press.)

General Foch has taken a leaf out of the book of German military strategists ordained to use by the allied army's pincer system of offensive in the Soisson and Rheims salient.

Both jaws of the pincer are moving smoothly with the pivot along the Marne working in unison and the process of attempting to capture many of the nearly half million Germans in the big pocket is well on the way to what at the present time seems possible success.

The Germans evidently don't intend to permit themselves to be entrapped without fighting; having thrown thousands of reinforcements into the already congested salient, they have started counter attacks of great violence around the whole of the semi circular line from the Ourcq river to the region immediately southwest of Rheims and their men, it is said, have been ordered to stem the tide of the advance at all costs.

Nevertheless at last accounts Americans, French, British and Italians themselves are well enforced to meet the new turn of affairs, were steadily pressing forward at nearly all points on the battle line to Rheims, while east of that city the Polish contingent—the first of the Poles to enter the combat—is declared to have carried out successfully the enterprise against the enemy, in which more than two hundred Germans were made prisoners.

ANOTHER GAIN

OF TARDENOIS

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 25.—Franco-American troops today made an advance of nearly two miles at certain points on the Aisne-Marne front, notable in the Dormans region, says the war office announcement tonight. Additional gains are recorded, showing the progress of the allies in this salient steadily going on.

APPEAL FROM HOSPITAL IS IMPERATIVE.

(By Associated Press.)

The woman's committee of the Council of National Defense has sent to every one of its state and local units in the country full instructions for the mobilization of young women in the United States student nurse reserve beginning on July 29. Surgeon-General Rupert Blue of the public health service, the American Red Cross and the Council of National Defense are joining forces in this campaign and already the state divisions of the woman's committee, by whom the enrollment is to be conducted, are busy with preparations for the campaign.

It has been announced at the headquarters of the woman's committee in Washington that local units of the woman's committee from Maine to California will have a recruiting station open during the fortnight beginning July 29.

At these stations women will be given an opportunity to enroll as candidates for the Army School of Nursing, established under the authority of the Surgeon-General, or in branch schools of the military hospitals, or to enroll as engaging to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to accept assignments to civilian nurses' training schools. Those who enroll will be sent at the beginning of the autumn and spring terms.

There are 1,579 nurses' training schools in the country. It was pointed out today that the need of these schools for nurses was as great and important as that of the Army School of Nursing. Those who enroll in the United States student nurse reserve will be assigned to these various hospitals as vacancies occur. The term of training varies from two to three years.

Every woman who completes the training course satisfactorily may be eligible for enrollment as a Red Cross nurse and for service with the army or navy nurse corps and stands a chance of being assigned to duty abroad. At the same time she will be qualified to earn her living in one of the noblest professions open London, July 25.—The French are continuing their attack between the river Ourcq and the river Marne and advanced last night a distance of a mile, taking the southern part of Fere Forest and now hold a farm on the main road between Fere En Tardenois and Jaulgonne. The town of Fere En Tardenois is within eight thousand yards of the French lines. It is a supply depot for the German army.

PIRATE KING OF HUNS
RODE ALL BY HIMSELF.

New York, July 24.—Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, leader of the Fatherland was handled roughly by an angry crowd at the railroad station at Freienwalde, Brandenburg, recently, according to a letter published in Vorwaerts of Berlin, a copy of which has been received here. A passenger train was crowded and excited passengers were struggling to get on when one discovered a compartment in which sat one man by himself.

A rush was made for the compartment, but the door was not opened. Force was about to be used when the conductor opened the compartment. The lone passenger looked at the intruders, removed his hat to show his bald head and stroked his beard. It was Admiral von Tirpitz. He maintained a studied silence even when some stepped up to him and cried out:

"Yes, that's the way the Fatherland people are. They reserve for themselves the comfortable compartments and don't care if the people next door are crushed to death."

No reply was vouchered and no passenger dared take a seat in the Admiral's compartment.

"The appeal from our hospital in the field is imperative," said Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the woman's committee, in an appeal today to the young women of the country. "They must at once have every nurse who can be spared. The places of those withdrawn must be filled immediately by student nurses. The call must be answered from every part of the nation. Let there be no woman slacker in the land."

WAR PROFITS
ESTIMATES
FALL SHORT

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 25.—The House Ways and Means Committee, tentatively agreeing today on a graduated tax on war excess profits estimated by the treasury to yield only a billion six hundred and ninety million dollars revenue it was found that either all its plans so tentatively agreed upon would have to be readjusted in order to produce the six billions sought from excess profits and incomes or it will be necessary to resort to some new tax proposition. As now planned the revenue from these two sources will fall a billion, six hundred and sixty millions short.

MAN POWER
FOR FARMS

Agriculture has contributed its due share of man power to the army—perhaps no more, certainly no less.

Other industries that have contributed man power to the army have recruited man power from the farms. Despite this disturbance, the farmers this year increased their production over last year, which was an increase over the year before; they have worked more days and more hours and have put their families at work; women have labored in the fields while their babies slept in the shade of near-by trees; many country children have labored while many city children have played.

The farmers can not continue to increase production if the volume needed and at the same time send more man power to the army and the city industries. It would not be fair to require it, if it were possible to accomplish it.

The only source of labor is the useless service of the cities—able-bodied men employed for luxury or mere convenience and at tasks which women can perform.

The crops are not all gathered; next year's crops are to be considered; food production must not fail.

What are we going to do about it? Chambers of Commerce, men of affairs, city leaders are asked to confer with the State Agricultural College or write to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Many cities have already done their part. What is your city doing?

ECHO FROM OLD BETHEL

An old gentleman from Nashville who gave his name as Kilpatrick, called at Bethel college yesterday and explained that his deceased wife was educated there up to 1869. He says she was a Miss Morris and was the daughter of a Baptist Missionary. They reared a family of children all of whom are grown. The old gentleman said sentiment led him to see the place where his wife went to school and of which she had talked often during her lifetime.

LATE VEGETABLES.

The government has issued a crop map divided into zones. Western Kentucky is in zone E and discussing late gardens the bulletin says fall vegetable crops may be planted up to the following dates: Bush beans Aug. 15, Beets Aug. 15, Celery Aug. 1, Kale Sept. 15, Lettuce Oct. 1, Parsley Sept. 1, Radishes Sept. 15, Spinach Sept. 1, Turnips Sept. 1. Early Corn, tomatoes and late cabbage may also be planted up to Aug. 15.

CUT DOWN YOUR
SUGAR RATION
TO TWO LBS.

AMERICAN PUBLIC OFFICIALLY ASKED TO USE ONE THIRD LESS SWEETENING.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 25.—The American public was asked by the Food Administration today to go on a sugar ration of two pounds to a person, monthly beginning Aug. 1st, to meet the world shortage in this commodity and care for the immediate needs of the allies and American military forces. The American public at present is on a three pound ration, monthly. Disappointing yield of nearby sources, the destruction of some ships carrying sugar, the destruction of the beet sugar sources by the German drives, inability to bring sugar from Java and other far away points, the increased demands of the army and navy are given as reasons for the new request.

PREACHER HELD

LORD FORBADE HIM TO REGISTER, HOLY ROLLER SAYS.

Madisonville, Ky., July 24.—After remaining in jail since Saturday the Rev. William Johnson, of the sect known as Holy Rollers, was held to the Federal grand jury to-day by United States Commissioner V. Y. Moore on a charge of having failed to register for the selective draft.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson was taken into custody Saturday by Sheriff Hunter. Taken before the County Judge, he pleaded that the Lord forbade him to register.

"TOM, DICK AND HARRY."

We have all heard the above expression so much that it has become classical, yet no one seems to know the place or persons of its origin. If our readers will pardon our tendency to localism, we believe we can locate the three original characters. G. W. Neel, of near Whitesville, is the father of three sons, whose names are Tom, Dick and Harry, taking them in regard to their ages. Tom and Harry are prosperous farmers of the Whitesville section, while Richard O. Neel, better known as Dick, is a prominent business man of Fordville. Tom is the oldest, Dick, second, and Harry the youngest, making Tom, Dick and Harry, respectively.—Hartford Herald.

Alexis Romanoff, the former heir from exposure a few days after his father, the former emperor, was executed, according to a dispatch from Moscow to Berlin paper.

Germany has made suggestions for a peace conference to the Spanish government, with the following ridiculous suggestions:

First, Germany wants no annexations or indemnities in the west.

Second, the peace treaties with Russia and Rumania may not be questioned.

Third, the principle of self determination of peoples has not been discussed but may be settled at the peace conference where the fate of Belgium also is to be settled.

Fourth, the Balkan question is to be settled around the conference table.

Fifth, the freedom of the seas, the dismantling of Gibraltar and the Suez canal and the right for Germany to Sixth, the colonial question is to be settled on the basis of the statu-

LOWEST U-BOAT TOLL IN TWENTY-TWO MONTHS.

London, July 21.—The losses to British-shipped shipping due to enemy action or marine risk for the month of June totalled 275,629 gross tons, this being the lowest record for any month since September, 1916.

The British losses totalled 161,062
tons and allied and neutral losses were 114,567.

The total losses for the quarter ending June 30 amounted to 946,778 tons which was the lowest record for any quarter since the third quarter of 1916. Salvages continue at the high level of recent months.

The tonnage of steamships of 500 gross tons and over entering or clearing from United Kingdom ports, other than coastwise and cross channel vessels, totals 7,430,386 tons. The total sailings for the quarter ending June 30 was considerably higher than the sailings of the two preceding quarters.

The above figures were announced by the admiralty tonight. The statement shows for June a drop in the world's sinking of 81,905 tons as compared with May; 47,796 tons as compared with April and 128,834 tons as compared with March of the present year. Compared with June of last year the falling off is 487,092.

CONFLANS SUPPLY BASE BOMBED BY THE AMERICANS

American aviators have again bombed the enemy base supply station at Conflans. This supply base is about 20 miles east of Verdun and is an important link in the enemy second line of defense. The railroad station and supply yards are reported to have been completely blown up by the effective bombing of the Americans. The picture gives a view of Conflans and the surrounding country.

GERMAN TRAFFIC IN UN- HOLY MATRIMONY.

London, July 25.—Most amazing is some of the information that has leaked out of Germany by way of Holland and other neutral countries, concerning the new traffic in unholy matrimony and the plans put into operation by the German authorities
as a means of repopulating their man-devastated empire. Some of these stories are almost unbelievable, were it not for the fact that the information comes from sources that are unquestionably authentic.

Not long ago, according to a story just received here, there were no fewer than 3,000 ex-convicts at large in Berlin. The majority were unmarried and also unfit for military service.
Through the Berlin chief of police, Traugott von Jagow, the Kaiser is said to have been the one who suggested that these former jailbirds should be turned into law-abiding citizens.

Hundreds Given Wives.

Through Von Jagow the hint was conveyed to the proprietors of the scores of matrimonial agencies which now flourish in Berlin. The books of the agencies contained the names of hundreds of German women who were waiting for husbands. The ex-convicts were approached by the matrimonial agents, and in less than a month more than 1,000 marriages had been celebrated between convicts and German women in every degree of society.

Many of these former jailbirds were men of education—they had operated criminally in the higher social circles. Others were the ordinary bull-necked, brutal type of German crooks whose success in crime had been brought about by brute force rather than brains. But they all went into the net of the matrimonial agent.

Some truly amazing alliances were the result. To-day a Potsdam butcher, who in a fit of frenzy murdered his wife and two children, but who was reprieved and pardoned after serving a seven-year sentence, is the husband of a Countess, who is literally rolling in riches.

Dernburg's Daughter Victim.

Another case has had an extraordinary sequel. One of the best-known men in the circle of sycophants around the Kaiser is Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, a Jewish-born Russian banker, who sprang into international prominence when the Kaiser made him Colonial Secretary in 1906, and whose name has since become familiar to all Americans.

Dernburg was a very rich man. He adopted a very plain—almost ugly—girl as his daughter. What she lacked in looks, however, was made up in lucre, for Dernburg bestowed upon her dowry of 2,000,000 marks.
In due course she married Johann, a scoundrel son of Gen. Hans von Bresler. Before Johann could dispose of his wife's wealth he was killed in battle. His widow was one of the many hundreds "on the stocks"
when the Kaiser's infamous scheme for making the scum of the underworld into husbands came into operation.

Now, it so happened that an aristocratic matrimonial agency which had Minna (as Dernburg's adopted daughter was named) for a client, had arranged her marriage to a convict of superior class whose lapse from respectability had not been of a very serious character.

But the thing was done so rapidly and there were so many clients on the books, that in some mysterious way Minna married a totally different man from the one chosen for her.
He was a criminal of the worst type.
He accepted philosophically the good fortune which had thrown into his way the opportunity to enter at will and by invitation the houses of the rich, which had previously been barred to him. There was plenty of money for him to spend; he had,
through his amazing luck the heart
could reasonably desire.

But the criminal kink in his nature could not be satisfied. He utilized the position in society his marriage had given him to execute a series of mysterious robberies from the very houses where he was entertained as a guest. His plunder approximated tens of thousands of dollars in value before he was detected. Since then he has again been languishing in the familiar prison cell.

Miss Mary Blake Ringo, of Knoxville, is visiting her uncle, P. C.
Richardson, on E. 9th street.

last night, and she "rode the rods"

ALLIED RELIEF WORK.

Many splendid calls to "Carry On!" are being made to the American people today, but surely none of these is more appealing than the relief work for the women and children of devastated France and Belgium. Such touching appeals come in to the headquarters of the relief work—clothes and more clothes are called for every hour of the day. "We want all we can get," the officers write to the workers over here. "When you hear" writes one of them "that refugee babies are often brought in to relief stations wrapped in newspapers, you realize what a godsend any kind of clothing is."

No woman's heart could fail to have been quickened at sight of these splendid boxes sent from the Allied Relief headquarters this week. One box was entirely filled with baby clothes, 514 garments in all, and although the clothes are expected to be plain and substantial only, the temptation to add a bit of tatting, crochet or embroidery was too strong to be resisted and a daintier lot of little sacques, outing wrappers, coats, hoodies, caps etc., could not have been gotten together. Splendid, substantial dresses, petticoats and underwear for older children, went into the other boxes. In the "Woman's Home Companion" for August is a picture of a number of French children who are having their first party in four years, the party consisting of a cup of hot chocolate, a toy and a warm garment for each child. Just glance at these good old smiling faces and make up your mind that you will be represented at the next one of these parties, then come down to the Y. M. C. A. building and help cut out or building to-day and help out our or take home with you a few things to be made up and if you have a few things to be made up and if you have any material you will donate please bring them with you.

If your favorite store has a sale of flannelette, dimity, cambric, knitted underwear for babies, talcum, soap or safety pins, buy what you can and bring them along. The hours at headquarters have been shortened during the intense heat and are from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. The days are still Wednesdays and Thursdays.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

You are required to call at the County Assessor's office at once and give in your list of property for taxes, for we cannot list everybody the last day. I have from July 1, 1918, to Nov. 1, 1918, to list 14,000 taxpayers. Consequently everyone who can should come in now in order to save paying a penalty. Very few have listed so far.

THE LITTLE HOUSE

By GERALDINE MACK.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Edwin Witham, bachelor, millionaire, clubman, Harvard '12, golf expert and gentleman, sat reading an advertisement in the Yokum Daily. It read thus: "For sale, Little House in the Wood, all modern conveniences, will sell at sacrifice. Inquire Miss Eunice Lovelace, Tel. 80 Main."

Little House in the Wood, Eunice Lovelace. As I repeated the words over to myself I found them to my liking. Surely the owner of such a name must be enchanting. Why shouldn't I inquire about the Little House in the Wood? I would, and I did.

Making my way to the telephone, I gave the number to the operator. After a long and patient wait a rippling "Hello" came over the wire. Where had I heard that voice before? Ah! I remembered. It was the voice of the girl to whom I had sought an introduction all season.

"Hello, is this Miss Eunice Lovelace?" "It is." Again that rippling voice, which went my heart into my mouth.

"This is Mr. Edwin Witham speaking. I have read your advertisement and am interested in the Little House in the Wood."

"I would be very glad to show you the place at your convenience, Mr. Witham."

At my convenience! My convenience would be any time.

"I'll be out on the next train, Miss Lovelace."

"Very well. Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

Looking at my watch, I found it to be 1:15. I had just enough time to catch the 1:25 out.

As I stepped off the train at Yokum I looked around. There at the end of the platform was Miss Eunice Lovelace. She was dressed in blue and looked very young and gay. As I advanced toward her, she smiled and said: "Mr. Edwin Witham, I believe?"

"Yes, and this is Miss Eunice Lovelace," said I, admiring her dimples, her gray eyes and the black hair so becoming beneath the trim blue hat.

"You know, Miss Lovelace, I saw you at the club dance last month and, because I was obliged to leave suddenly, I never knew your name."

"I thought it best not to add that I had done my best to find out, though."

She laughed and jumped into the little racer, and we started off. The ride to the little house in the wood was very beautiful. The river, along which the road ran, extended as clear and as still as glass. The air was soft and the pine-wooded shores very silent.

The house was but 10 minutes' distance from the station, and as we neared it the girl at the wheel cried: "Behold! Little House in the Wood."

The house stood on a knoll surrounded by pine trees, overlooking the river. There were rows of boxwood bordering the driveway from the town, spacious veranda to the river road. The house was for the greater part covered with ivy.

"How's the first impression?" asked Miss Lovelace, the trim little hat on one ear, the dimples coming and going, and the gray eyes sparkling.

"Fine," said I.

"You must come around to see the swimming tank," said she, leading the way to the back lawn.

"That settles it. I'll take it because of the swimming pool," said I.

The dimples came and went. "I suppose you will think it funny of me to want to sell this place, when my father gave it to me this season. I'll tell you the deep, dark truth, if you'll promise not to tell."

I promised.

"Well it's this way. I entered my horse 'Jose San' in the Yokum races. I was sure of his winning, so I bet on him. 'Jose San' finished about half a neck behind 'Junior' the winner. Here she looked at me, the gray eyes wide and the red lips quivering.

Who could stand such a rout? Who could scold such a charming child as she? Not I, so I only grinned and told her that I would be out that night with the money to close the deal. I felt rather guilty when I said that, for the deal could have been closed then and there.

That night as I drew up to the veranda, she stood in the doorway. The light from the hall fell on her hair, and outlined her dainty, attractive, girlish figure.

As she greeted me her eyes looked very gray, and her hair very black. The dimples came and went, and she led me into the library, she looked very small and lovely and helpless.

As I handed her the money she suddenly began to sob. "Oh, Mr. Witham, I don't want it to go. But I need the money, so I suppose it must. If I only had courage to tell Dad about the race." The light had gone from her eyes, the dimples from the soft cheeks, and the small mouth quivered.

Without thinking, I rushed to her. I took her in my arms, crushed her to me, and said over and over, "Eunice dearie, it doesn't have to go. It will be yours and mine. 'The Little House in the Woods.' Look at me, darling, and let me find my answer in your sweet eyes."

As she lifted her eyes to mine, I saw that the light had come back to them. But it was a different light, brighter and warmer, and I knew that light burned for me. As I crushed her to me, she whispered my name as if it were a thing sacred, sacred, sacred and loved. It was my name, "The Little House in the Woods." She said to me to be and mine.

3000 MEN ARE WANTED

GEN. PERSHING AND GEN. FOCH
APPEAL TO THE Y. M. C. A.
FOR WAR WORK.

Renewed appeals from General Pershing and General Foch, together with the plans of the Government at Washington to have nearly 1,500,000 in France by September, have resulted in a new drive by the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. to recruit approximately 4,000 business and professional men for overseas duty during the summer. New York City has accepted a quota of 1,000 men above draft age to serve the soldiers abroad in Red Triangle huts and other Y. M. C. A. recruiting organizations over the country are making an effort to enlist the services of 3,000 other men.

"The men most needed here are the men most needed in France today," says an announcement received here today by Lorenzo K. Wood, Secretary of the local Young Men's Christian Association. "The Y. M. C. A. is basing its appeal for men on the ground that there is no job in France too small for the biggest man in any American community. The Y. M. C. A. workers in France have had to become a part of the military machine. Gen. Pershing relies on the Association to keep up the morale of the troops so that with military training they may become the most efficient fighting machines that ever went into active war service."

"First of all, there is a pressing demand for men who are neutral leaders, men who are real men, good mixers and capable of exerting the proper influence. The leaders generally are assigned as hut secretaries, in which position they will require a versatility almost inconceivable. They must be above the fighting age, but must be able to undergo a searching physical examination as does the man admitted to the combat branches of the services."

Ambassador Sharp, in a recent appeal for more workers, emphasized the fact that many were breaking under the terrific strain.

"That is the answer to those who regard the Y. M. C. A. as a paradise for pacifists, a refuge for slackers. We can use none of them in our service. At least one in eight or ten of our workers in France is in the shell zone. Recent dispatches have told of the gassing of our workers, of their death or serious injury caused by hurtling shrapnel. The uniform of the Red Triangle is not for the men who do not want to go to war. It is the uniform that every 'middle-aged' man should aspire to wear. Although it gives him no military rank it gives him the opportunity for patriotic service and for distinction—many 'Y' workers in France have already been cited for bravery."

Further fields of usefulness require experts in sports and education, and motor mechanics. Hundreds of men with a capacity for leadership in mass athletics are needed. Men who drive their own automobiles are being recruited for the motor transport service in France. Prominent educators are enlisting for the great Khaki College that General Pershing has authorized in conjunction with the training in the concentration camps back of the western front.

The War Personnel Board of the Central Military Department, comprising fifteen middle western states, reached its high mark in recruiting men and women for Y. M. C. A. service in June, when a total of 747 men and women were enrolled. This was considered a typical month in recruiting. Of this number 495 men and 25 women were assigned to overseas duty. The number enlisted for work in the home camps was 252 men, Illinois and Chicago took the lead in recruiting, with a total of 144 men and women assigned to foreign and domestic duty. Ohio followed with 83 men and women and Iowa took third place with 73 recruits. Indiana and Kentucky tied for fourth place, with 69 recruits from each state.
